The 2nd edition of the History Literature Festival was themed “Building on the past, not bound by it”. It delved into ‘Histories that Make the India Story’ - Unpacking the India Story, with thematic dives into the influence on languages on culture, evolution of music, novel archaeological and archival realities and many others. It covered a wide array of recent trends in historiography and study of history like, History and – Cinema, Food, Music, Railways, archaeology, Gender, Business History, International relations, History of Pune, etc. A lot of these topics were what the students were studying and therefore it showed the clear relevance of the topics they are studying in their syllabus by listening to the experts in each field. Students were exposed to the ideas and learnings of stalwarts and experts in different areas of the study of history. They were also lucky to get books signed by the speakers and experience a rare opportunity of seeing a mobile museum of ancient Indian, Egyptian, Greek and Mesopotamian artifacts by the CSMVS, Mumbai in association with the British Library, London. 11 students benefitted from this educational visit.
